BACON'S
MADISON MERCANTILE COLLEGE.
(Branch of Bacon's Mercantile College Cincinnati, O.)
No. 13, Braen's Block, Madison, Wisconsin.

THE undersigned respectfully announces, that he has taken rooms in the above named block, [until his new College Edifice, which is in course of erection, corner of Mifflin and Pinckney streets, is ready for occupancy,] and will open his MERCANTILE COLLEGE on Monday, January 14, 1856.

The plan adopted in teaching, combines practice with theory; instead of using Text Books the pupils are exercised in making original entries of every day business transactions—Journalizing, Posting, Balancing Accounts, Opening and Closing a great variety of different Sets of Books, both for Partnership and Individual Business; where the business has been prosperous and adverse—and thus qualifying the student for entering into the practical duties of the Accountant, in any kind of business.

THE COURSE OF INSTRUCTION will consist of DONALD ESTEY BOOK-KEEPER, embracing every department of Trade and Mercantile Accounts, viz: Wholesale and Retail, Commission, Exchange, Banking, Manufacturing, Shipping, Individual, Partnership, Joint Stock and Compound Company Business. Also Commercial Calculations, Penmanship, Lectures on the Science of Accounts, &c.

Pupils are instructed individually, and not in classes, so that Students may enter at any time and proceed in the ratio of their capacity and assiduity.

HOURS OF INSTRUCTION, viz: From 9 to 12 M., from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 o'clock, P. M.

TERMS:

For one Scholarship, which entitles the holder of it to a full course of Instruction $40,00

N. B. Until the completion of my new College Building, I will offer the following inducements, viz: Any one person subscribing One Hundred Dollars, will be entitled to four Scholarships at $25 $100

Any one person subscribing Five Hundred Dollars, will be entitled to twenty-five Scholarships at $20 $500

☞ The Scholarships will be transferable, and each one entitles the holder to a full course of Instruction.

Each subscriber will be secured for amount of subscription by Mortgage on Real Estate.

Hours of Instruction, from 9 to 12 M., and from 2 to 4, and from 7 to 9 P. M,

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The Supreme Court of Wisconsin yesterday announced their decision in the contested Governorship. It sustains the Relator, Mr. BASHFORD, thus far, but requires him to show title, before putting him in possession of the Executive Office.

The Legislature did but little business of public interest yesterday. Most of the bills passed were local ones.

The doings of the Navy Board excited a hot debate in the U. S. Senate, Tuesday. Kansas still occupies the House.

We have but a meagre Eastern report by telegraph last night. No news yet of the Persia and Quaker City, both overdue at New York, and some apprehensions felt about the U. S. Propeller Arctic, which sailed from New York a month ago in search of the missing Pacific.

A variety of news items will be found under the telegraph head.

The Contested Governorship---The Decision of the Court.

The Supreme Court, at its session yesterday afternoon, pronounced its decision in the important and interesting case which has engrossed its time and attention and occupied the thoughts of the people, during the past few weeks. The judgment, as all anticipated, is unanimously in favor of the Relator, Mr. BASHFORD; but the Court require, that he shall show a prima facie title to the Executive Office, before being put in possession. His Counsel gladly acceded to this requirement and await the directions of the Court as to the proper mode of proceeding.

The judgment of the Court will, we think, give general satisfaction. They have dealt wisely, justly and fearlessly with the case before them. They have faithfully guarded the rights of all parties to the suit, the Relator, the Respondent and the People. They might, under the strict rule of law, have granted at once a judgment of ouster against the intruder into the Executive Office and have put the rightful Governor in possession. The extreme partizans of the Usurper looked and hoped for this result, and were prepared to charge it to partisan bias and to excite a clamor against the Court for adjudging the Office of Governor to a claimant who had shown no title. But the judgment of the Court disappoint and disarms them, while it gratifies and satisfies the friends of Mr. BASHFORD. It is because they believe in their hearts that he is the lawfully elected Governor of the State, and that a full and fair investigation will prove him to be such, that they demanded an appeal from the wrongful decision of a political board to the cooler judgment of a judicial tribunal. They have felt throughout every confidence in the wisdom, integrity and independence of the Supreme Court and the result has more than confirmed their good opinion. Gladly do they accept the issue now tendered and willingly will they yield the Executive Chair to WM. A. BARSTOW, if COLES BASHFORD does not establish a clear and indisputable title to that high office.

And if he does make out such a title, what good Citizen, what true Republican, what honest Democrat, will cavil at the decree which puts him in possession and gives due effect TO THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE?

The Prevailing Sentiment.

While a very few papers in this State, devoted to the interests of Mr. BARSTOW, echo the intemperate but idle assaults of the Madison Argus upon the Supreme Court and join in the threats of resisting the law and sustaining the Usurper, the more respectable and independent portion of the Democratic press, refuse to follow this desperate lead, and very clearly intimate their purpose to stand by the Courts and the law. We read "the expressive silence" of the Wisconsin and the News to mean this, while the Waukesha Democrat, Madison Patriot, Stevens Point Pinery &c., openly proclaim it. The Pinery stands deservedly high in the party for its unfaltering adherence to "regular nominations" and its able advocacy of the peculiar tenets of democracy. Its voice, therefore, is a potential one and we rejoice to know that it is uttered for the Supremacy of the Law and against Anarchy, Usurpation and Civil War. We copy a portion of the article on the contested Governorship in its issue of the 14th instant:

The contested Governorship, is drawing to a crisis, rather than a close. The Supreme Court having sustained the demurrer, Barstow has withdrawn from the Court, and offered it a perpendicular defiance. He has sent a special message to the Legislature, (which will be found in another column) setting forth his reasons and calling on that body to stand by him. We were aware from the beginning that his Attorneys would advise him to this course, but had some doubt whether he would in the sequel pursue it.

Having thus refused to answer to the information of Bashford, the Court will take it as confessed, and make a decree of ouster against Him. A collision must ensue!

The great body of our sober citizens are yet, we trust law-abiding, and will sustain the proper authorities in enforcing the law, as fast as it is properly ascertained. Endeavoring to forget the errors of the Court in the Glover Rescue case and to trust it has been guided by wisdom in this one, the people will probably bow to its decision and stand by its decrees.

No "ORGAN" AT MADISON.—The Galena Courier (Dem.) says:

"We confess Wisconsin politics are a puzzle to us, and we cannot understand them. What paper at Madison is regarded as the exponent of the Wisconsin Democracy?"

To which the Lafayette Co. Herald, another democratic authority, responds:

"Neither of them, Mr. Courier."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION IN MICHIGAN.—A Mass Republican Convention for the State of Michigan is to be held at Ann Arbor on the 26th inst., for the purpose of electing Delegates to the National Convention, which will assemble at Philadelphia, on the 17th of June next. The call states that each Congressional District will be entitled to three Delegates and that six will be chosen from the State at large. It is about time, we think, that measures were taken to call the Republicans of this State together, either in Convention at Madison, or in the different Congressional Districts, to choose their Delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.

RACINE AND MISSISSIPPI RAILROAD.—The Racine Advocate of yesterday furnishes the following statistics of the business on the R. & M. Rail Road, during the second week of March—the road being now open to Delavan, 45 miles:

Passengers carried West,	275½,	receipts	$320 60
" " East,	269½,	"	179 15
Total,	545		$419 75
Average no. of passengers daily,			91
" receipts	"		$69 96

The Advocate anticipates a large increase, when the road is completed to Beloit.

SHEBOYGAN AND MISSISSIPPI R. R.—We learn from Senator TAYLOR of Sheboygan that the contract for building and equipping the first 40 miles of the Sheboygan & Mississippi R. R., has been let to a Boston firm, who are to commence work on the 1st of May, and complete the first 20 miles of the road within 18 months thereafter. This seems to ensure the success of an enterprize all-important to Sheboygan, and of no small consequence to Fond du Lac.

FIRE IN MOUNT PLEASANT.—The dwelling house of Edward Welch, in Mount Pleasant, Racine county, was destroyed by fire on the 14th inst. Loss upwards of $1,000—no insurance.

FROM MADISON.

Editorial Correspondence of the Sentinel.

In Supreme Court—March 18th, 2 P. M.

Present, all the Judges.

CHIEF JUSTICE.—Does the Relator say anything further?

Mr. KNOWLTON—I was not in at the time the question was raised.

JUDGE SMITH—"I will repeat what I said this morning." He then briefly reviewed what had formerly been stated by the Court as to the tripartite nature of the suit, and as to protecting the right of all the parties, and of any one, if an exigency arrived. The question was whether the counsel for Relator thought it necessary to alter the form of Information.

CHIEF JUSTICE—If the Court decide that the Attorney General has a right to dismiss the case, there is an end of it. But if not, it is a question whether an amendment of the Information is required.

Mr. KNOWLTON—The case is a new one entirely. No precedent exists, inasmuch as no prosecuting officer in a case of quo warranto has ever before attempted to throw the Relator out of Court. Mr. K. proceeded to argue the case according to such lights as occurred to him. He held, from the law of 1855 relative to suits by Information, that no one but the Attorney General and the person claiming the seat in dispute, could appear as prosecuting. He argued that the real right in the Information was in the Relator, and the Attorney General had consented to the use of his name. If he had refused the use of his name, it would, under the law, still be used by the Relator, and would be a sort of surplusage. So that it was still proper to use the Attorney General's name, although he has retired from the case.

JUDGE SMITH—Are you content with the scope of the Information, and the form in which it stands?

Mr. KNOWLTON—Certainly; since it was amended at our suggestion, by leave of the Court, the Attorney General consenting. I think our title is fully set up in this Information. The records show the whole proceedings in full.

Mr. HOWE—It is first proper to enquire what is proposed to be done in relation to the Relator's case, before we speak. If the case can be dismissed, it is done with; if it cannot be dismissed, then there is nothing proposed, and the record Information stands good. Mr. Howe held that no amendment of the Information was necessary, or, indeed, proper. The Attorney General has only sought to withdraw the suit, not merely to withdraw his name. He did not believe that the Court would allow him to do the first; neither the last, since the law gives the Relator the right to use the Attorney General's name.

The question now seemed to be simply whether the Attorney General can withdraw his name in such a manner as to require an amendment of the papers. Mr. Howe held that the Attorney General could have no such power to file and dismiss Informations at pleasure, and destroy the whole force of the Statute.

The Court took time to consider the question, and adjourned to 10 A. M. to-morrow.

MADISON, March 18, 7 P. M.

I sent this afternoon a sketch of the morning proceedings in the Supreme Court, and with this I enclose a brief note of the remarks of counsel in the afternoon. I am now quite confident that we shall hear the final decision to-morrow morning. As to the outrageous proposition of the Attorney General, to dismiss the case, I am confident that the Court will rebuke it most emphatically. As to the general decision, knowing nothing of the mind of the Court, I can only hope for the best.

Certainly, lawyers generally agree that, the Attorney General having, in the Information filed by him, alleged that Barstow is not entitled to and usurps the office, and that Bashford was elected and is entitled to the same, the judgment of the Court by default, must go to the whole Information, and be as full and particular as that Information. "To such complexion has it come," not, certainly, by the fault of Bashford or his counsel, for they have been from the beginning, ready and anxious to present their proofs. That course was what they most desired, and not a judgment by default, which would prevent them from presenting their proofs. Of course, those evidences will be given to the public in any event; and if they do not give them under the order of the Court and in the progress of the suit, it is not the fault of the Relator, but of the Respondent.

Look, for a moment, at the proceedings in this remarkable case, briefly stated:

A State Election.

William A. Barstow obtains the certificate of the State canvassers, to the effect that he is elected Governor by 157 majority.

Coles Bashford prepares a document, under the law of 1855, representing that, in fact he was elected Governor by some 800 majority, there being numerous frauds and forgeries in the canvass, which he asks leave to prove. He presents this paper to the Attorney General, asking the use of his name to bring a suit in Supreme Court, in the nature of a quo warranto, to test his right to the office.

The Attorney General, instead of giving his consent, goes forward and files a paper of his own, on behalf of the people, alleging that Barstow usurps, and that Bashford is entitled to the office, and thus commences the suit.

Mr. Bashford, by his counsel, comes into Court and moves to substitute the document (Information) prepared by them for that filed by the Attorney General, the former being partizdar in its allegations of the frauds and forgeries. They also ask the Court to give them control of the case for the Relator, holding that the Attorney General exhibits hostility towards him.

The Court decide that the Information filed by the Att'y Gen'l is sufficient in the view of the law—that he had a right to file it, and that the people are so far interested that they have a right to appear. Also that, the case being a tripartite one, having for parties the Relator, the Respondent, and the People, the Court has the full power to protect the rights of each, and will exercise that power whenever the exigency may arise. The Court ordered the writ of quo warrants to issue to William A. Barstow, the Respondent. Counsel, by consent of the Att'y Gen'l are entered for Relator.

The Respondent appears by his counsel, H. S. Orton, J. E. Arnold and M.H. Carpenter, and moved to stop the proceedings, on the ground that the Court had no right to call upon the Governor to leave his functions and appear before them. The Relator, by his counsel, J. H. Knowlton, T. O. Howe, A. W. Randall, and E. G. Ryan, appeared, and argued the contrary.

The Court held that the person who held the office of Governor, might, at the suit of a claimant of the office, be compelled to stand on his defence, and directed him to plead.

The Respondent, by counsel, appeared and argued that the Court has no jurisdiction over the Governor, which plea was overruled by the Court.

The Respondent, by counsel, appeared and argued that he had received the certificate of the State Board of Canvassers, and that the Court cannot go behind it. After argument, the Court overruled the plea.

The Respondent next sends into the Court a communication, of a very remarkable character, refusing to appear before it further, denying its jurisdiction, and bidding it defiance, threatening to use force to resist its decrees.

On the last day allowed for the plea, Tuesday, March 11th, Respondent appears not. Counsel for Relator thereupon move for judgment by default. The Att'y Gen'l says that he does not altogether agree that the judgment must be to the whole of the Information, but that it might be interlocutory, and go only to oust the Respondent, and still, in some manner, call upon the Relator to produce his proofs. Counsel for Relator reply that the Information filed by the Attorney General has concluded them, and no interlocutory judgment can meet the case. The Court take time to consider the case.

On Tuesday, March 18th, the Court not having yet rendered judgment, the Attorney General comes in and reads and files a paper, in which he claims to dismiss the whole case, and refuses further to prosecute it on the part of the people! Counsel for relator deny the right of the Attorney General thus to throw another party out of Court, and remind the Court of their promise long before to protect the rights of each of the parties, if the exigency should arise. They also agree that the use of the Attorney General's name being a right of the relator, either with or without his consent, by the act of 1855, his withdrawal does not affect the form of the Information.

Thus far we have come. Continual dilatory pleas on the part of BARSTOW—continual pressing forward for an issue which might enable them to present their evidence, by BASHFORD. At length, in desperation, BARSTOW defies the Court, and his friend, the Attorney General comes in, and attempts an outrage hitherto unheard of in the whole history of law,—to drive the Relator out of Court entirely, by assuming to dismiss the case!

I cannot but believe that this shameless act will react upon the heads of its inventors, and that the finger of scorn will be pointed at them, whenever and wherever they raise their heads or open their mouths hereafter.

The crisis is close at hand. W. H. W.

Report of Commissioners of School and University Lands.

We give below a brief abstract of the above entitled report. Due caution must be exercised in reference to its statements, in view of the egregious blunders of the last annual report by the same officers, and the fact that there are strange stories about the discoveries made by the Committee at work in the Land Office.

The capital of the School Fund amounts, at this time, to the sum of $1,897,269 36; being an increase since December 31st, 1854, of $227,010 53.

The capital of the University Fund at this date amounts to the sum of $181,875 10: being an increase since December 31st, 1854, of $21,815 51.

During the year past, they report as having been sold; of 16th Section School Lands; 144,214 acres, for $200,053; principal paid, $22,941; interest paid, $4,054 25.

Of 500,000 acre tract; 16,893 acres, for $31,539; principal paid, $3,064; interest paid, $0,691.

Of University lands; 5,630 acres, for $21,549; principal paid, $2,253; interest paid, $903,41.

The Commissioners report as yet unsold:

Of 500,000 acre tract,	acres,	1,992
Of 16th Section,	"	34,259
Of University Lands,	"	87
Total		36,048

Land in eight of the counties have been brought into market during the present year, by being offered at public sale, after due advertisement.

On the 18th of July, the lands selected in Waupaca county as part of the 500,000 acre grant were so offered, at Waupaca Falls, the county seat of said county. The whole of such selection, amounting to 16,683, 91 100 acres, was sold, and the amount realized to the fund on such sale was $23,420 16.

On the 12th day of November, fourteen school sections in Monroe county were offered at public sale at Sparta, being all of the sixteenth sections then subject to be offered, amounting to 8,960 acres, and the aggregate amount realized being $13,385 53, upon which $1,485 53 was received of principal, and $113,35 as interest.

On the 14th of November, the sixteenth sections in the county of Jackson were offered at Black River Falls. The number of acres sold was 11,820 84 100. The amount of sales was $17,037 98. Amount of principal paid $1,320 53. Amount of interest paid, $135,95.

On the 17th of November, the sixteenth sections in Clark county, to the number of nineteen, being all then subject to be offered, were offered at the house of H. Wedge, in said county. The number of acres sold was 10,271 42-100. The amount of sales, $14,718 80. Amount of principal paid $2,461 80. Amount of interest paid, $99 21.

On the 20th of November, the sixteenth sections in the county of Chippewa, to the number of thirty-nine, being all then subject to be offered, were offered at the village of Clear Water, in said county. The number of acres sold was 21,847 98-100. The amount of sales $28,206 10. Amount of principal paid $2,451 19. Amount of interest paid $192 09.

On the 23d of November, sixteenth sections in the county of Dunn, to the number of thirty-two, being all then subject to be offered, were offered at Dunville, in said county. The number of acres sold was 17,848 76-100. The amount of sales was $25,240. Amount of principal paid, $2,525. Amount of interest paid, $158 04.

On the 26th of November, sixteenth sections in the county of Buffalo, to the number of twelve, being all then subject to be offered, were offered at Fountain City. The number of acres sold, 4, 827 72-100. The amount of sales $6,384 47. Amount of principal paid, $682 47. Amount of interest paid, $50 67.

On the 28th of November, sixteenth sections in Trempelean county, to the number of nineteen, were offered at Montoville.—The number of acres sold was 6,480. Amount of sales $8,766 74. Amount of principal paid $2,15 64. Amount of interest paid, $48 60.

Loans of the Fund have been made to the amount of $83,242, and interest taken on said loans to $3,427,91.

The Commissioners recommend that the loans be made for a longer time than at present.

The Commissioners further say:

Under the act of 1854, authorizing the Governor and School Commissioners of School and University lands to institute improvements in the mode of managing sales, and keeping account of the funds, a bureau was formed about the first of July in that year, and upon the system then established, the business of this department has since been conducted.

It is a business of very large extent, involving in its management attention to minute details, and a great amount of clerical work.

The last Legislature failed to make any permanent provision for paying the expense of this department; and we commend the subject to your consideration at the present session.

The money has been drawn for the above without law or right, and it is not certain that the people are satisfied with the system at all; in fact we doubt it. They say further: In concluding this report, we take occasion to congratulate the people of the State upon the fact, that not one dollar of their great educational endowments has been lost. That the whole of it is securely invested, and that no apprehension need be entertained of the loss of any part of it from the failure of the securities which are held for the payment of its principle and interest. We have a right to feel some pride upon this account, as well in relation to the official conduct of our predecessors, as our own.

As to that, we can tell better when the Investigation is concluded.

MURDER TRIAL.—We learn from the Stevens Point Pinery of the 14th inst., that LANE, who murdered RAINER at Grand Rapids in February last, was tried at Plover, before Judge CATE, last week, found guilty of murder, and sentenced to the States Prison for life.

SLOW WORK.—The Chicago Common Council balloted 21 times for City Printer and 9 times for City Superintendent, on Monday evening last, without effecting a choice. The Council seem to be equally divided, nine Douglas and Nebraska Democrats, and nine anti-do.

SENECA LAKE FROZEN OVER.—We were told yesterday that on the 9th of March, 1856, for the first time within the memory of man, Seneca Lake was frozen over so solid that the steamboat could not make her usual trip. We believe most of our readers are aware that the weather was decidedly cool about that time.—N. Y. Tribune, March 15.

Review of the British Grain Trade.

The several markets throughout the kingdom have more or less emerged from the state of depression into which they had fallen as the consequence of the anticipation of peace, and the average improvement may be held at about 1s. per qr. Had a treaty been positively signed, it seems to us there scarcely would have been sufficient reason for such a state of things as that recently exhibited. The transatlantic ferment, we trust however, is subsiding, or will subside, and that the interests of commerce, civilized on and common brotherhood may be spared. America, we hope, will continue admitting equally to exchange her produce for British gold, and all things continue in a satisfactory course. But, after all, nothing will add to the stores of wheat, this side of harvest, and over six months must elapse before there will be another gathering. A wasteful confidence, under any political aspects, can therefore only put the nation in danger, and must fail in securing the needed supplies at a time of extremity.

The continental markets are again looking up. Last week's advance in Paris is nearly supported. Belgium, Holland and the Baltic show improvement. There are also buying buyers for the near ports, and some transactions have taken place on full terms. Peace, after all, is still "in suspense," and, if the early reports from nearly all Europe were founded on fact, it is useless to deceive ourselves with the notion of sudden plenty. These have been the oft-reiterated opinions of well-informed and truthful men, and a few short months will test their soundness. The transactions in floating cargoes have been on the most restricted scale, holders not being content to make sacrifices, and buyers standing aloof, unless tempted by price.

SEUTARI, ASIA, Nov. 28, 1855.

I have before alluded to the dervishes, a peculiar sect found among the Turks all over the Empire. They are divided into two kinds and are designated by the vulgar world's people, by the names of whirling dervishes and howling dervishes. I called once or twice in Constantinople at some of the Convents of the former, as their places of meeting are called, but never found that I happened to be there the right time for seeing their peculiar ceremonies. A friend, however, told me that they were more interesting than the others, and consisted in the surprising agility, with which they would whirl in various attitudes, and the great endurance and almost superhuman strength which they would exhibit in their performance.

On a Thursday, at twelve o'clock noon, I repaired to the most noted of all the Convents of the howling dervishes, who are called by the Turks rapid. This was a small building in Seutari, and like the mosques, had an outer court, through which all enter, before arriving at what would be called the Chapel. This portion of the Convent was not large. In the centre on a level with the floor, was a sort of arena with a partition around it in a circular form of one foot in height. In this part, where the exercises took place, there were matrasses, and upon these lambskins were placed, upon which the worshippers sat and knelt. When not in use this way, they are removed. All along three sides there were seats under low galleries. In these galleries were also seats for the faithful alone. From them and likewise from the reserved side of the room were screened doors, something like those seen in the theatres, which lead to the apartments of the priests. Through these screens eyes are often seen, but no persons. I have been told that they are the eyes of females. No women are seen, however, except in the lower galleries among the spectators.

I will not undertake to give a detailed account of what I saw during the two hours this singular scene were going through their orgies, for I can call them by no name less harsh. There were about twenty performers in the circle, besides a Chief-Priest, who was dressed in long flowing robes, which he changed occasionally. The received side of the building was hung with all sorts of instruments and devices. Among them different kinds of hats and caps which were occasionally changed, daggers, swords and spears. In fact I should have taken it for a collection of ancient armours, if seen any where else. Among others were several of the ancient battle axes, formerly used by the Romans, also pincers, saws, shields and other instruments, whose use and names I do not know. The whole of the religious ceremonies, if they might be so called, seemed to be half Pagan worship, and the other borrowed from the forms and ceremonies of another order, which undoubtedly claims preeminence, known with us by the name of the ancient and oriental order of 1001.

After going through with many mystic signs of greeting, saluting the grand priest, sitting down and getting up, prostation and kissing the earth, they all sit down in a circle and pray, what is called a prayer of the namaz. After this they all recite many ejaculations in Arabic or Turkish, I do not know, which having the following interpritation: "Blessings on our prophet, the lord of messengers, and on his family and his companions; blessings also on Abraham, and his family, and his companions." These are recited slowly, something like the dolorous part of the Greek choruses at their church. Next after this comes the profession of faith. All standing in a circle, they commence slowly to say the words: "La illah illallah," which they divide into six syllables la-il-lah-il-la-lah. When pronouncing the first syllable, they bow themselves forwards; when they come to the second, they raise up again, and at the third syllable they bend themselves backwards. After this there are all sorts of changes rang upon those words, and at every change there is a corresponding change of the body—sometimes forwards, sometimes backwards, then sideways, and occasionally with a see-saw motion. At times the voices range high, and at others low, and frequently changing the chorus. During this part of the performance the bellowing of all the voices ceases of a sudden, and a very pretty duet is sung by two of the best singers. They sing a portion of what is called the borda, a poem in praise of the prophets and held in great reverence by all Musselmen. Also snatches from other poems in praise of the great Sheikh Abdul Kadir Gilan, or Said Ahmed Rufai. This is the only bearable part of the performance.

Soon again the howling commences, and after a little while one fancies he is in bedlam, surrounded by demons. Changes ring on different syllables, and the word lah is only recognized among a whirl-pool of discordant sounds. Frequently too the word he is heard above the din. After a half an hour, it all settles down into a sideways movement of the head and body, all in concert; the eyes are closed with the face upward, the mouth froths, nature becomes exhausted, all the noise that is heard is a low guttural sound like that of a dying hog in its last agonies, the face and body is relaxed, covered with sweat, and at last they fall!

The next part of the performance, after seeing and hearing what I have above described, made me nervous. It consisted of several coming in perfectly naked, with the exception of a slight bandage about the loins, and going through a number of feats with sharp pointed daggers.—This was done in receiving them into the mouth and person, or at least it appeared so, and throwing themselves into positions of actually falling on them, with the hilt on the floor pointed upwards, when by a certain dexterous movement of the body they would avoid them. In former times this part of the ceremony was actually performed by cutting and even burning the body, but the Sultan has prohibited it of late.

After going through various gymnastic exercises of this kind the whole performance closed by one old priest, with a mighty long head, stepping on the stomachs of different persons that came forward. First, he would feel along with his feet carefully, and then by the help of an assistant at each hand, he would slowly raise himself upon their bodies, when they would let go his hands. I saw him thus stand on children not exceeding five years of age. He was a man of ordinary weight, but how it was done I do not know. It has been intimated that there were iron hoops on the inside of their dresses, but how true this may be, I cannot say. I left the building pondering over in my mind what a strange world we live in and whether there could be in its wide range any thing more curious as well as wonderful in the way of worship.

One of the finest buildings in this city is the hospital, having been built by the Turks some three years ago for barracks. It is in a quadrangular form, some four stories high and encloses within the outer walls just ten acres of ground. In the center there is a large open court. There are but few inmates here now and everything shows the most perfect order and cleanliness.—It was here one year ago, that the sick troops were sent to last winter from the Crimea, numbering some 15,000, and where such a frightful mortality prevailed. From 25 to 30 died each day, and the poor fellows were carried by night and buried in one common grave, dug in the form of a pit. There is a large cemetery here, full of fresh made graves, where many a British soldier lies sleeping, far from his native land, and those by whom he was held most dear. War never looks so frightful as when in its midst and when we can see with our own eyes it evils and its terrors.

In Skutari there are eight mosques mostly built by the Sultanas. The mosques would not be taken with us for churches, having no resemblance to any of our buildings. They are smaller and higher, of a circular form and are lighted from the domes and from circular windows in the second story as well as in the body. The form is more like that of the ancient temples. The Sultan frequently comes over to worship on Friday, which is the Turkish Sabbath. The Jewish Sabbath is on Saturday. Our own Sabbath of course is not observed by either. The Mohammedan year commences on the 16th day of July, and time is reckoned from the flight of Mohammed from Mecca, when he first assumed an inspired character. The hours of the day commence at sundown which is the 12th hour, and one hour thereafter it is one o'clock. Thus time is continually changing, producing a great deal of inconvenience in the time of the leaving of steamboats and other business arrangements.

When the Sultan attends mosque, either here or many other of his mosques situated across or near the water, he takes a Kayik, and this turnout is one of the most imposing sights to be seen in oriental land. The common Kayik is very much like the Venetian gondola, built sharp, long, and graceful, but not covered. In the bottom are matrasses and carpets and one has to sit after the fashion of Turks. They are propelled with almost steamboat speed. There are said to be from eighty to one hundred thousand of them plying in and around Constantinople.

The pachas Kayiks are very splendid, manned as they are by sixteen oars, and the rowers in gaudy dress with large flowing white sleeves and red caps, keeping time the same as a band of musicians. These are large and beautifully ornamented. But of all that are seen, the sultan's, of course surpass, the whole. They are large, more like small ships with prows, covered with chaste designs and carvings and gilded with gold. Canopies of velvet and the richest silks of Persia hanging in festoons cover a portion of them. Under this pavillion on the richest of tapestry the monarch of the Ottoman empire reclines, while the oarsmen superbly dressed ply the oars. He is always attended by a numerous suite, together with his guard and a military band of music. This retinue frequently fills fifty boats and one cannot imagine the magnificence of the spectacle. Such a pageantry with music and streaming banners might not make such an impression on my memory any where else, but here, gliding as they do over the beautiful Bosphorus, having the cities of Europe on one side and those of Asia on the other, with their gilded domes and minarets glowing in the sun—but all taken together they formed a scene so grand and imposing that time will never efface it.—Painting and poetry have lent their charmed powers in describing the barge of Cleopatra and the train when she embarked on the Nile to meet her lover and royal guest, Mark Antony, but I doubt whether in any respect it rivalled in cost or magnificence the Sultan's similar establishment one at the present degenerate day.

The Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court Barstow has once Acknowledged it.

We suppose there is not a man in the State, who knows enough to read and to comprehend the simplest principles of common sense, who has been deceived by the bluster raised by Barstow and his partizans on the subject of the independence and co-equality of the judicial, legislative and Executive departments of the Government. We doubt not but the people have quite as much confidence in the legal ability, integrity, and candor of the Supreme Court, as in the honesty and impartiality of Barstow, his feed attorneys and his hireling presses. On the one hand is Barstow, a desperate and reckless political adventurer, and his feed attorneys; on the other is Judges Whiton, Smith and Cole, acting under their oath of office, men of eminent legal attainments, of pure reputation. We take it that most intelligent men will not long hesitate in deciding which tribunal is entitled to respect and confidence; and to show that this clamor raised about the independence of the departments is a mere dodge—an afterthought—a straw after which the drowning Forty catch, when an issue on the facts becomes unavoidable, we cite the following extract from the remarks of Mr. Orton, one of Barstow's counsel, on the motion of Mr. Bashford's counsel to dismiss the information filed by the Attorney General, and to give them leave to file one prepared by themselves:

He asked further, why it was sought to file an information different from the one which universal custom and precedent have established. It was to embarass the respondent—and place upon him the bringing of affirmate proof or errors existed otherwheres than as averred in the information. The Respondent asked not for delay. He asked only for reasonable time to prepare and submit his defense. But the case he will meet manfully, properly, and with due despatch.

We copy from the Argus' report. Thus it will be seen that at the opening of the case, Barstow acknowledged the jurisdiction of the court. He then proposed "to prepare and submit his defense." As that time his "organ" was ridiculing the suit, showing how the law's delay would put off the decision till the expiration of the two years' term of office, that all "the substantial fruits of victory" would fall into the hands of the usurping administration, and that, if Mr. Bashford finally succeeded in getting a judgment, it would practically amount to nothing.

There was a gleeful chuckle throughout the ranks of the Forty at what they considered successful villainy.

As the trial progressed, it became apparent that an issue could not be postponed according to the programme announced. The evidence of the frauds of the late canvass was likely to be brought out; those who were implicated in them were likely to be exposed; some shift was necessary; and this shabbiest of pretexts was hit upon as if Bill Barstow were the Executive Department and the embodiment, of sovereignty, above the Constitution, and unaccountable to any earthly tribune for wantever wrongs and outrages he may commit!—Madison Patriot.

DIED.

On the 25th ult., in Sandstone, Mich., Mrs. EMILY POWER, wife of Hon. Townsend E. Gildsy, in the 29d year of her age.

Thus has passed from time to eternity—from earth to Heaven—one who was in all that is good and noble in woman; beautiful exceedingly in person before disease had robbed her countenance of its rich bloom; with a rarely gifted and highly cultivated mind, blending in admirable harmony, every grace and virtue, that makes woman the delight and ornament of society, and man's better angel on earth; the deceased will be long remembered by a large circle of warmly attached friends.

Mrs. G.'s lasts illness was disease of the heart and dropsy, from which she was a great sufferer, bearing her sufferings, however, with the all-shining faith and resignation, crown only to the righteous in life and in the Lord.

Her funeral was attended on the 28th ult., from her late home, and an unusually large circle of friends and neighbors, manifested by their presence and deep emotion, their high regard for her character, and sorrow at her removal.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. D. T. Grinnell, of the Episcopal Church at Jackson, and a discourse preached, appropriate to the occasion, from St. Luke 20th, Chapter and 36th verse.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

Caution to Western Merchants.

SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS.

THIS CELEBRATED MEDICINAL BEVERAGE IS manufactured at the manufactory of the undersigned, at Scheidam, Holland. He is the sole importer, as well as the exclusive manufacturer of the article, and no preparation bearing the name of "Schnapps," that is not procured either from his establishment in New York, or from his agents in other cities, is genuine and reliable.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrat d grain growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the ripe made Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-west are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while in cases of dropsy, obstruction of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

HOUSES OF REFUGE.—The advantages of these institutions, in large cities, are abundantly appreciated wherever they have been tried. The following paragraph, taken from a Pittsburgh paper, is evidence in point:

In a debate which occurred in the Ohio Legislature on Tuesday, upon a bill concerning a House of Refuge, Mr. Thomas, of Cincinnati, said that a woman in Kentucky, who had an unmanageable child, had sent it to Cincinnati, for the purpose of having it apprehended as a vagrant and sent to the House of Refuge, where it could be controlled and properly educated. A man had sent all the way from Alabama to have a child admitted there who had become unmanageable at home. Others had applied from other States. These facts he said came under his own observation.

It is to be hoped that the People of this County, at the approaching Town Meetings, will elect a Board of Supervisors with sense and humanity enough to establish a House of Refuge.

FIRST WARD SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The pupils of the First Ward Public School, under the direction of their Principal, Mr. McWHORTER, are to have an Exhibition at Young's Hall, on Tuesday evening next. The performances will consist of exercises in Declamation, intermingled with appropriate music.

FIRE.—An alarm of fire for the First Ward was sounded about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It proceeded from a frame building on the East side of Market Square, occupied by a German family as a dwelling and store. The flames were extinguished before any material damage was done.

CONDUCTOR KILLED.—The name of the Conductor who was so badly injured by being run over by two or three cars of a gravel train, on the La Crosse & Milwaukee R. R. Tuesday, is LOCKE. His wounds proved mortal. The body was brought to Hartford, for interment yesterday.

ACCIDENT IN A CLAY BANK.—A laborer, an Irishman, whose name we did not learn had his right leg broken in two places yesterday, by the caving of a clay bank in the Fourth Ward. He was removed to the Sisters of Charity to be cared for. What the poor and unfortunate would do without this institution we do not know.

ALLEGED FRAUDS IN BONDED LIQUORS.—It is intimated in semi-official quarters, that great frauds will soon be made public, which have been perpetrated upon hitherto unsuspecting persons, in the purchase of brandies purporting to be taken from bonded cellars. So complete was the plan, that tens of thousands of dollars have undoubtedly been realized to the parties engaged in the swindle. As it appears now, a Custom House officer was in collusion with the rogues. This time all the culprits will be caught, if reliable evidence will have any weight.—Courier and Enquirer.

If frauds of this character are perpetrated, as they doubtless are, the effect will be to induce thousands who have occasion to use strong drinks of any kind to purchase Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, which are at least pure, and generally reported to be a perfectly wholesome beverage. There is an immense quantity of vile stuff imported under the name of brandy and other strong drinks. To say that what we drink is imported, is no argument that we are getting a good article. Foreigners buy our whiskey or proof spirits for some 40 or 50 cents a gallon, and send it back to us at some three or four dollars a gallon. Some of our most reputable public houses are selling brandy at ten cents and a shilling a glass, that never cost the manufacturer over one dollar a gallon. They say that in consequence of the high price of brandy, they are compelled to raise from six to ten or twelve and a half cents a glass. "I buy my liquors in bond, and take them out of the Custom House," is an expression that used to denote a pure article; but a Custom House guaranty, we soon has become worthless. Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps will, under these circumstances, have an increased sale.—New York Leader, &c. mar20dlt&MP

☞ For the benefit of the invalid, portions of the community, we extract the following from the Almanac of Dr. C. M. Jackson, proprietor of Hoofland's German Bitters hoping it may induce a trial of them:

SHEFFIELD, Ill., March 19, 1855.

J. C. NILES says:
"I expect to sell great quantities of your bitters this year Many of my customers speak very highly of its good qualities, having proved itself most an excellent Fever and Ague preventative, a great purifier of the blood, and the very best thing on record to aid digestion and create a good natural appetite. In short, I am sure it is one of the very best medicines known for family use, being safe and pleasant for any one to take."

C. L. D. CROCKWELL says.
ARCADIA, Iowa, May 3, 1854.—"The Bitters give unbounded satisfaction to all that have used them, and I do and can always recommend them to all that are afflicted. They have cured many cases of Dyspepsia, some of them where hundreds of dollars have been spent for remedies which afforded no relief, and were considered incurable until they used the Bitters." MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE PUBLIC.
THIS is to certify, that in consideration of the many misfortunes which have attended me in the erection of my Saw Mill, at Mapleton, in the town of Oconomowoc, Waukesha County, I deem it proper and in just se to say, that the trouble arising in the erecting of my Mill did not lay in the fault of the machinery or wrong mixed, patented by D. D. Goodwin, and manufactured by Decker & Saville, but from other causes, and I do most cheerfully recommend said water wheel, to the Milling community, as being the best wheel now in use, for driving any kind of machinery, and that it has fully come up to all the recommendations given to it. I shall take great pleasure in showing my Mill, to any one desirous of using the best water wheel in the State. In conclusion I would say to all parties building Mills, to profit by my experience, and employ none but good, honest, steady and efficient Millwrights, and they will save money.

WANTED,
A Local Agent.
IN THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE AND VICINITY to take charge of a canvassing business for New Illustrated Publications of a national character, and published in numbers. These books are new, highly popular in the style of text and illustrations, and issued by the house of D. Appleton & Co. Four books are already published, and these will be followed by others of acknowledged merit. The business will be a permanent one, and fully require the attention of a man, as there are, besides several assistants as canvassers. One who has had some experience in the Number Trade preferred. The business is, however, easy of comprehension, and all those who engage in the sale of books in this way prefer it to selling books in a bound form. A good local agent in Milwaukee should earn for himself $90 per week.

CALEB WALL, Land Agent.

CITY LAND OFFICE.
I HAVE GREAT BARGAINS in Real Estate to sell for a few days, owing to the tightness of the money market, which all-ets the persons men just as a thunder storm frightens old women to run and get onto a feather bed to prevent from being hit. This will last but a few weeks; there's as much money as ever. But the weather continues cold, the price of grain is at a stand, and the prospect is a wet Spring, so look out for squalls, if you have common sense and nerve, take advantage of Panic-clism, for property will be 50 per cent. higher in sixty days. It cannot be otherwise. Only think of it! Mike will live in a cold house, and will have, one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants in five or six years. It cannot be otherwise, when we have two different rail Roads running to other places. The property I have for sale will be sold on easy terms.

CHAS. PREUSSER,

TAKES PLEASURE in announcing to his friends and customers, and the public generally, that he has removed to his new and elegant Store, built by him expressly for his rapidly increasing business, on the corner of East Water and Mason Streets, opposite the Walker House and Post Office. Where he is receiving almost daily additions to his large stock of in fact of everything usually to be found in a well assorted business of this kind.

As his stock is all new, of the latest and most fashionable styles, purchased direct from manufacturers and importers, and will be sold at a very small advance, he flatters himself that both Prices and Goods will give general satisfaction.

The Repairing of Watches and Jewelry will be as heretofore under my personal superintendence, and I have engaged help enough to do all work with despatch. Thinking of the kind encouragement, so liberally bestowed upon me during the past Eleven years by the Milwaukee Public, my friends and customers may be assured that no effort of mine will be wanting, to merit a continuance of the same.

Capital over $165,000, in Cash & Premium Notes.

THIS COMPANY offers unrivalled facilities for the insurance of Buildings and Personal Property against fire. The advantages offered are security beyond the reach of circumstances, as the real estate insured is by law bound for losses made by this company, and losses beyond the power of evasion. Every person insured is a member of the Company, and entitled to one vote. The cost of insurance does not exceed principles as much as in Stock Companies, saving nothing of the increased security and the incompatible ease with which losses are settled. During the last five years, this Company have issued 2000 Policies and made but three assessments, at a cost to the property insured, not exceeding five cents on the dollar—its business is principally confined to this State.

OFFERS his services in locating Land Warrants on pine or farming lands.

Some good prairie land can yet be found in the lower part of the County. In the upper part there are the best of locations, timbered with Sugar Maple, Birch, Oak, Linden, &c. Those lots are in the immediate vicinity of the pineries, which will always afford an excellent market.

Send warrants to me by mail, and I will carefully locate them at the following reduced prices, to-wit:

160 acres,	$8.00
120 "	7.00
40 "	4.00

Pine lands, (of which there is yet considerable unentered,) $4.00 per 40 acres, whether in large or small quantities. An addition of one dollar per 40 acres will be required for Land Office fees.

Every location I will personally and carefully examine.

STEAM FOUNDRY!

—OF—

TURTON & SERCOMB,

296, 298, 300, 302 and 304 West Water St.,

IS STILL IN FULL BLAST, WORKING DAY AND night to supply the daily increasing wants of the Dodger and other States.

In order further to do this, the proprietors have erected a large brick Foundry in addition to their former premises. They have added to their stock of Tools a large Planing or Shaping Machine, three Lathes, and a Machine for making bolts, and are now putting in a Steam Engine of —— horse power to drive the whole, thereby adding to the former facilities for the successful carrying on of the Foundry, Machine, Engine and Blacksmithing business. They never were in a better position for doing business, and in any department.

In regard to the character of the work got up by this

The Oldest Establishment in the State,

the Proprietors refer to that in successful operation through the country as their best recommendation, as it can speak for itself. All they can say is, that they are both Practical Mechanics, and know how work should be done as well as the next man.

They continue to manufacture FLOUR and SAW MILL GEARING, and STEAM ENGINES, on the most approved principle.

They have always on hand a large stock of BRASS WORK, such as GRAHAM CHIMNEY Cocks, Oil Cups and Cocks, and Steam Whistles. Also TURTON'S Flues, which they will sell at the lowest cash price.

They are also Agents for FAIRBANK'S PATENT STEAM GAUGE, which are well worth the attention of all those who use Steam Engines.

In conclusion, they invite a continued share of the patronage of their old friends, and solicit a call from all those in want of Saw or Flouring Mill Work, assuring them that no exertions will be spared to render the Old Eagle worthy of the reputation it has so deservedly gained.

Their motto is, "Excelsior!"
